This agreement will not punish MS but extend its monopoly into an area where they currently do not dominate.

MS should be forced to change their business practices.

Try to purchase an Intel based computer with Red Hat linux installed. Companies are required to sell the computer with Windows installed. So, if I want a computer that runs Red Hat linux I must purchase a pc with Windows installed. Delete Windows and install Red Hat.

I am forced to purchase Windows even though I do not want it.

I have more complaints if you need them.

Cordially,
